Game Boy's Next Incarnation?

Find out what the word is on the Spaceworld show floor about the next handheld system from Nintendo.

BY IGN STAFF

UPDATED: JUN 20, 2012 4:40 PM

POSTED: AUG 27, 1999 8:00 PM

Obviously one of the big things on everyone's mind at Spaceworld this weekend was, is Nintendo® working on a next-generation Nintendo®? Well, some people at Nintendo® were willing to talk about it more than others, but apparently, Nintendo® is.

After talking with a few key individuals, it seems that there are two Game Boy successors in the works. One, code-named AGB, or Advanced Game Boy, is an online-connectable Game Boy Color system & the unit is essentially the Game Boy Color with the Cellular Wireless connection built into a single unit.

The other talk is of a 32-bit color handheld. But from the individuals we talked with, this system is quite a ways off & definitely something that sounds like it won't be ready until at least 2001. There really isn't any need for it yet & the Game Boy Color is still going strong, and still fueling the Japanese company more than the N64 is.

Remasters and Ports

And of course, the 1500+ games were incredible... let's list 15 of them!

Rules

- We are looking to build a list of 15 essential titles for your collection
- As a panel, we have pre-selected a list of 10 excellent games (next slide)
- Please line up behind *this* microphone
- Whoever is at the front of the line will have 15 seconds to convince us that a game should be added to the list
- If there are already 15 games on the list, you must also take one off
- State your game (and sacrifice) and your timer will start
- The panel will then give a thumbs up or thumbs down to the change
- You need to convince 3 out of 5 for the change to be made
- We will continue until we around 12:25pm
